Ceremonies Held To Rename School

Croydon residents — young and old — joined Bristol Township and Bucks County school officials in paying tribute last night to Mrs. Mary W. Devine at rededication ceremonies of the George Taylor School.

Today, the 24-classroom school on Keystone St. is the Mary W. Devine Elementary School, named in honor of her 39 years of loyal and devoted service to the Bristol Township school district.

Louis A. Alimenti, president of the Bristol Township School Board, unveiled the aluminum nameplate rededicating the school at which Mrs. Devine has been principal since 1957.

Praises Record

Alimenti, in brief remarks, praised the fine record of achievement during Mrs. Devine's long teaching career. He told the large throng in attendance at the outdoor ceremony that of the many times he has voted on the board, he "never had a greater pleasure than when I voted to rename this school in your honor."

A slight hitch in the ceremony developed when Alimenti encount-

Estes sure got around.

Another Agriculture Department official has admitted receiving money from the Texas financier.

Estes distributed more money than a Christmas Club. Now we have to wait and see just how much good it did him.

Soviet note on Berlin has once again brought the Berlin situation to explosive proportions.

It was the strongest recent Russian note and it said the Russians wouldn't permit West Berlin to continue as a base for revenge seekers and militarists.

The note didn't mention that most of the trouble started when the East Germans shot at unarmed refugees trying to escape their worker's paradise.

Ted Kennedy does it.

He wins the Massachusetts Democratic nomination for senator. However, he isn't home free. His opponent Edward J. McCormack Jr., says he will oppose Ted in the primary.

What Ted has done to rate the nomination besides being lucky is beyond explanation. The 30-year-old hasn't any political experience —in fact he hasn't any experience that we can detect. He's three years out of law school and spent most of that time helping his brother.

The Space agency has 250 applications for the high position of astronaut.

If Christopher Columbus had that much competition would he have been selected?

Any relation between what will take place at Woodrow Wilson field tomorrow, 1 p.m. and good softball will probably be an accident.

Why don't you go out and listen to the band.

It used to be Washington's face that was on our money. Now it's Washington's hands.

It's the increased boat traffic on the highways that's making Sunday driving tough.

House Probers Seek Estes' Cash Gift List

Search For Top Officials

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators today hunted for Billie Sol Estes' cash gift list, which was reported to be so full of high-ranking officials that Estes couldn't keep track of who was on it.

Chairman L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., of the House subcommittee investigating the Estes case, said the search would start at the Post Office Department. He hoped to learn some of the names on the list by looking over records of money orders Estes mailed out of Pecos, Tex.

Former Assistant Agriculture Secretary James T. Ralph told the subcommittee Friday that he got money from Estes for no discernible reason. He said it embarrassed him so much that he complained and was told that the Texas financier didn't know his name was on the list.

Ralph, who got fired because of the Estes cause, said Estes was "just the kind of man my mother wanted me to be. He did not smoke, he did not drink and he did not chase women."

Perhaps, he said, he should have followed the advice of a "wise old sergeant" who once warned him "a man who neither smokes, nor drinks, nor chases women — stay away from him."

Manuel Mentions List

The gift list was first mentioned by Robert Manuel, an ousted counsel for the Republican minority on the subcommittee.

Manuel, in a statement Friday, said testimony in a closed session of the subcommittee told of "a list of individuals to whom Estes allegedly sent gifts in the form of money orders."

Fountain denied any such testimony was taken. But he said the subcommittee had heard of the possibility of such a list and was hunting for it.

Ralph admitted Estes sent him two $100 money orders, and also testified his assistant William Morris, received money orders. But he said both he and Morris endorsed them over to the Demo-

Community Center Ready For Operation

The Bristol Township Community Center, located on Anderson St., Bristol Terrace 2, is now available for use by residents and groups of Bristol Township for recreational purposes and meetings.

This announcement was made last night as the Center committee climaxed four months of work in which 18 service, civic, religious and governmental organizations set up the machinery to operate the Center.

Major Frank R. Steele of 5616 Fleetwing Drive, Fleetwing Estates, was named chairman of the house committee and will be in charge of making the Center available for public use. Individuals or organizations desiring to use the building may write Major Steele or call him at WIndsor 9-1255.

Ted Kennedy Gains Smashing Victory

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI)— Ted Kennedy is riding a steamroller towards Washington.

The President's 30-year-old brother scored a smashing political victory early today when he won the endorsement of the Democratic state committee as candidate for United States senator.

President Kennedy telephoned his brother to congratulate him. But young Ted missed the call. He was en route to Municipal Auditorium to make his acceptance speech.

Within an hour, however, Ted returned the call. He said the

One Critical After Auto Hits Culvert

At least one person was critically injured this morning when a car apparently ran out of control and hit a culvert on Newportville-Fallsington Road, 200 feet west of Route 413, Bristol Township.

Listed in critical condition with internal injuries at Lower Bucks County Hospital was William Kramer, 19, of Philadelphia.

Also treated at the hospital following the accident at 4:30 a.m. were four others, including the driver, William Barker, 33, 250 Lincoln Highway, Fairless Hills. Their conditions were not immediately reported.

Bristol Township Police said Barker's car, heading east on Newportville Road, went into a ditch, travelled along the ditch for 100 feet, then hit a culvert and utility pole. Two persons were reported thrown from the car.

Others in the car, police said, were Walter Egan, 22, 172 South Canal St., Yardley, Joseph McGinnis, 23, 52 Tall Pine Road, Twin Oaks, Levittown; and Larry Kuklin, 21, 429 Holly Drive, Levittown.

Police said the car was completely demolished.

International Conference

World Trade Body Proposed By Reds

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union and its Eastern European bloc partners said today they favored the convening of an international conference which would set up a world-wide trade body that would embrace both Communist and capitalist nations.

The call came in the final communique issued after the two-day meeting of the Council of Mutual Economic Assistance (Comecon) in the Kremlin.

The Comecon countries are in favor of convening an international conference on problems of trade, which would discuss the question of setting up an international trade agency "to embrace all regions and countries of the world without any discrimination," the communique said.

The communique also said the sessions took "specific organizational measures" to boost the role, authority and responsibility of Comecon. But there was no indication what steps were taken.

The full text was released today by the official Soviet news agency Tass. The document painted a glowing picture of the state of the Eastern bloc's economy and expressed "the desire of the comecon countries' to increase foreign trade with the West.

The Comecon sessions ended on Thursday after two days of closed door meetings in the Kremlin. The sessions brought together the top communist party leaders and economic experts from the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia.

First To The Moon?

Space Unit Seeks More Astronauts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national space agency is thumbing through more than 250 applications in a search for five or 10 more astronauts. Among the new crop may be the first American to fly to the moon.

The applications came in response to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announcement April 18 listing basic qualifications. The application deadline was June 1, and NASA expects to make its selections next fall.

The armed services supplied 53 of the applications after preliminary screening of an even larger group of test pilots. More than 200 of the applications came from civilians.

The civilian group, which included many persons patently unqualified, will be screened down to 15 or 20, a NASA spokesman said.

He said the agency will "take a hard look" at about 70 applications, military and civilian, before paring the list down further.

The applicants left after the first screening will be interviewed and given written examinations on engineering and science next month.

After that, the ones still in the running will be given rigorous physical examinations. The selections of the astronauts who will join the original seven will be made, probably in September or October, by Robert R. Gilruth, head of the manned spacecraft center at Houston.

They will join the first seven in the post-Mercury Gemini and Apollo programs, after undergoing intensive training.

'No Compassion For Glamour Girl'

Marilyn Monroe Fired, Sued; Lee Remick Takes Over Role

MARILYN MONROE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Triumphant Lee Remick had no compassion today for castoff Marilyn Monroe.

Blonde Miss Remick replaced Hollywood's No. 1 glamour girl in a new movie yesterday when 20th century - Fox Studios fired Marilyn and sued her for $500,000 for breach of contract.

The studio's legal action was based on the actress' repeated absences from "Something's Got To Give" during the past two months.

10 Years Younger

"I feel Marilyn should have been replaced," said Miss Remick, 10 years younger than the 35-year-old blonde blockbuster. "I don't believe actors should be allowed to get away with that kind of behavior.

LEE REMICK

Warn On Hasty Action

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Two Bristol Township Schools Board members today urged Tullytown Borough residents to "get all the facts" before signing any petitions calling for the Tullytown School Board to pull out of the Delhaas Joint School District.

John F. Hess and Charles J. McGrath, both of Levittown, assailed the Tullytown's board for "seizing upon appropriations for counseling service and higher teachers' salaries in an attempt to try to force the hand of the township board."

Know Facts

"I think the people of Tullytown should know all the facts concerning the Delhaas Jointure,' Hess declared. "And Mrs. Arzt apparently doesn't have all the facts," he added.

He was referring to Mrs. Lois Arzt, president of the Tullytown School Board, who on Wednesday night urged Tullytowners to attend meetings of the Delhaas Joint School Board and "give us your support."

For the past several years the Tullytown and Bristol Township Boards, which comprise the Delhaas Jointure, have been at odds over various commitments in the ten-year-old Jointure Agreement. In recent weeks the Tullytown board has expressed its desire to leave the Delhaas Jointure and become a part of the Pennsbury Joint School District.

As yet, the Pennsbury board has made no commitment either way but it has set up committees to study the feasibility of taking the Tullytown board under its wing.

Says Tax Decrease

Anthony Ciccantelli, secretary of the Tullytown board, earlier this week stated that Tullytown would gain an approximate eight mill decrease in taxes if it were to become a part of the Pennsbury district under the Act 561, the state's new school reorganization law.

However, Hess today said that under a union district Tullytown would have to pay its share for new schools and capital outlay. "Under the present Delhaas Jointure," he added, "Bristol Township provides all the facilities."

McGrath concurred with Hess, stating that "Tullytown has had to pay far less than they would have in a union district. They are enjoying all the advantages of full-tuition schools, but no disadvantages."

$100 Less

McGrath pointed out that today it "costs Tullytown $100 less per pupil annually to educate its 204 students in four Delhaas secon-

An employe of the Bucks County Association for the Blind, Papp was injured when his bicycle hit a telephone pole at the intersection of Swain and Mifflin Sts., Bristol, Thursday afternoon.

He was taken to the hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad. He suffered a severe head concussion and lacerations.

Papp lives at 51 Clover Lane, Crabtree Hollow.

ered trouble in getting the paper covering off the nameplate. However, another school board member, Nick DeMara, scurrying to the roof of the school, completed the unveiling job.

Mrs. Devine also received a plaque from Frank Milward and a traveling bag from Janet Scheerer, given by her pupils.

Glowing praise was heaped on Mrs. Devine, whose resignation becomes effective July 23, by several guest speakers last night. These included District Suerintendent Robert P. Martin and Mrs. Margaret Seylar, supervising principal of Deep Run Valley Joint Schools.

Guests Included

Other guests included Charles J. McGrath, Mrs. Angela Blatt, Newton H. Parkes Jr., John F. Hess and DeMara of the Bristol Township School Board; Mrs. Mary K. Clarke, board treasurer; Issac Ben Ezra, board secretary; Walter Miller, former superintendent of township schools; Mrs. Sarah Buckley, former supervisor, Bristol Township school district, and U. Berkley Ellis, principal of Delhaas High School.

Henry C. Morgan served as toastmaster for the affair. Included in the audience was Harry W. Fawkes, president of the Bristol Township Board of Commissioners.

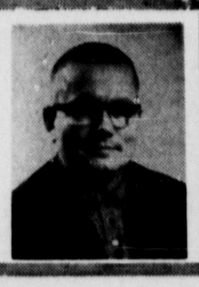
Going in Circles

By Charles (Scoop) Lewis



The way the talk's going about town, it looks like there'll be a three-ring circus at the Woodrow Wilson High School field tomorrow afternoon. And it's something residents of Bristol and Falls Townsip's won't want to miss.

According to advance billing a softball doubleheader is slated at the field located at the intersection of Green Lane and Mill Creek Road, Levittown. But we won't guarantee what the spectators will wind up watching.

One thing for sure, somebody better arrange for the Bucks County and Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad to be on hand. We feel there's going to be a need, as Casey Stengel once said, for the "arnica and old lace."

At 1 p.m. the Courier-Times will be playing (?) WBCB in the battle of press vs. radio. An hour later (or less) the Bristol Township commissioners and school board will combine to oppose the Falls Township supervisors and school board array.

It shapes up as a mighty colorful twin bill with plenty of hoopla attached. The Woodrow Wilson High School band will be on hand at 12:30 to provide the music. Trophies will be awarded the winning teams, providing they're physically able to accept them after the games.

Admission is free (who'd have the nerve to charge?). But the boys (some of them are ready for social security) will take up a collection with the proceeds going to a deserving charity.

Just got a tip hot off the wires. Looks like "Bullet" Joe Bellerby (comish from Croydon) or "Curveball" Bill Carlin (township solicitor) will be doing the pitching for Bristol Township. And Angie Blatt and Mary Clarke will lead the sideline cheering section.

If Phil Stout has a sore hand, we can understand why.

The president of the Delhaas Joint School, during two consective nights, shook the hands of 481 high school graduates. He handed out 218 diplomas at Woodrow Wilson High School Wednesday night and then had 263 more to present Thursday night than at Delhaas High School.

Mr. Stout didn't just give a handshake to each and every one of the 481 graduates. As he had a congratulatory few words for each and every one of them.

Speaking of graduates, things came in pairs at the Delhaas Commencement last night.

Among the 263 graduates there was one set of twin sisters, Jen and Joan Goldthorpe. There was a set of brothers too, Francis and Theodore Stake Jr. Elaine and Regina Simpson made up another sister combo.

There were four sister-brother combinations to receive Delhaas diplomas, namely Carl and Carol Klein, Chester and Stella Sytnik, Elizabeth and Jerome DeMarchis and Mary Jane and Richard Pierce.

The next general meeting of the Community Center will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Center building.

Levittowner, Son Injured

A Levittown woman and her son were injured yesterday afternoon afternoon when their car collided with another one at Millcreek Road and Edgely Road, Bristol Township.

Treated for lacerations and contusions at Lower Bucks County Hospital, and later released, was Mrs. Jeanne Goldberg, 38, 16 Oval Turn Lane, Oaktree Hollow and her son, Julius, 17.

Their car was struck by a car driven by Wilma M. Brandimarti, 26, 15 Indian Park Road, Indian Creek, Levittown, according to Bristol Township police.

The Goldbergs were going west on Millcreek Road and the other car was heading north on Edgely Road, police said.

Brandimarti will receive a summons for disregarding a traffic signal, police reported. The accident happened at 3:10 p.m.

Two Urge 'Facts' On School Jointure

dary schools than it costs Bristol Township taxpayers."

Hess charged the Tullytown board with "trying to push our budget up and perpetrate on their people a higher tax." He accused Ciccantelli, who has been fighting for higher teachers' salaries, of wanting to make the tax "higher yet."

Hess said the Tullytown board was "using this as a club." He said the Tullytown board should explain the facts before getting citizens "riled up."

The 1962-63 Delhaas Joint School budget of $2,383,301 was tentatively adopted by a 12-0 vote of the Tullytown and Bristol Township Boards on May 28. It is slated for final adoption on June 28 with a public hearing set for June 19 in Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, Levittown.

Opposition Indicated

The Tullytown board earlier this week indicated it will not approve the budget on June 28 because the Bristol Township board has "cut out certain educational values."

Morris Feldman, treasurer of the Tullytown board, on Wednesday told a public meeting that he had talked personally with one of the Bristol Township board members who assured him that "the five necessary votes would be gotten" to get out of the jointure. The township board comprises nine members and Tullytown four. The Delhaas Jointure, to be dissolved, must be approved by a majority of each board.

Hess today declared, "I doubt if Mr. Feldman or any one else can guarantee five Bristol Township votes to let Tullytown out."

$18 Per Pupil

McGrath pointed out that Tullytown presently pays $18 for each of its 204 pupils attending four secondary schools in the Delhaas system. He said it costs Bristol Township about $100 per pupil ($144 less state reimbursement).

Further, McGrath explained, "Tullytown is still getting state aid for being in the jointure but Bristol Township is not due to its being a second class district."

Both McGrath and Hess claim Tullytown "owes Bristol Township several thousands of dollars in financial obligations which it has not fulfilled." McGrath said the amount "may be as much as $30,000." Hess said he knows Tullytown owes $1,700 in back cafeteria expenses and $2,500 for transportation, plus capital outlay, insurance and charges for pupils over the 120 limit under the Jointure Agreement.

Hess and McGrath both stated that the Bristol Township board, for several weeks, has been endeavoring to obtain the full amount of Tullytown's indebtness from Henry B. Decker, administrative assistant to the superintendent in charge of business. "As yet we haven't heard from Mr. Decker," they declared.

cratic party — one of Ralph's to the party in California.

Ralph testified that Morris told Estes of the embarrassment the money caused his boss. Ralph said Morris told him "Billie Sol didn't know my name was on the list."

Manuel told reporters it was his understanding Morris had a copy of the list. Morris was fired by the department for refusing to explain his connections with Estes.

Demoted Over Policy

Ralph was first demoted from assistant secretary because of policy differences with Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. He was later fired, while training to become an agriculture attache to the Philippines, because he charged personal telephone calls to Estes.

Ralph also reviewed for the subcommittee his personal relationships with Estes.

He said he went on a shopping tour with Estes and agreed to try on expensive clothing. But he said he never accepted anything from Estes but a bag of pecans and a nut sheller. He also admitted charging personal telephone calls to a credit card number Morris gave him, but he said he did not know at that time the card belonged to Estes.

The former official denied ever doing anything improper for Estes. He said he had nothing to do with the Texan's grain storage or cotton empires.

$100,000 Granted For Medical Center

The Federal government late yesterday approved a grant of $100,000 for construction of the new Bucks County Medical Center adjacent to the Lower Bucks County Hospital.

U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark advised the Courier-Times today that the surgeon general of the U.S. okayed the grant yesterday after passing on preliminary plans which had been drawn up by the Bucks County Board of Health.

The building will cost a total of $315,500, with the county paying the balance.

Mrs. Florence Lucas, administrative officer of the county board of health, said this morning that the Federal funds were applied for under the Hill-Burton act, which provides government participation for health purposes in a building of this type.

Ground has not been broken yet, Mrs. Lucas said, pending approval of the plans. They had been given tentative approval earlier in the week, she said, with the final decision up to the surgeon general.

Te clinic will include diagnostic rooms, clinic rooms, offices and a conference or meeting room which can seat as many as 100 persons, Mrs. Lucas said. It will replace the present county health department office on Anderson Ave. in Bristol Terrace I.

Marilyn Monroe Fired, Faces Suit

spite all the glamour. Other people get fired from their jobs for behaving the way she did."

The studio, taking action after weeks of difference with Marilyn over the state of her health, said it tossed Miss Monroe out on her famed derriere because she had failed to live up to contract obligations.

Action Necessary

Peter Levathes, a studio vice president, said:

"Miss Monroe is being removed from the cast of 'Something's Got To Give.' This action was necessary because of Miss Monroe's repeated wilfull breaches of contract.

"No justification was givenby Miss Monroe for her failure to report for photography on many occasions. The studio has suffered losses through these absences and the 20th Century - Fox film company has commenced legal action."

The studio also has suffered millions of dollars in losses due to another star — Elizabeth Taylor — in "Cleopatra" which currently is filming in Italy.

When Miss Monroe had worked only 12 of 32 scheduled working days producer Henry Weinstein suspended production Monday.

He said, "Marilyn has completely flouted professional discipline and is responsible for putting 104 crew members out of work. It means taking the bread right out of the mouths of men who are depending on this picture to support their families."

Miss Monroe had no comment on her dismissal from the picture and refused to voice opinion of her replacement.

The long - time Hollywood sex goddess was to have received $100,000 for the picture, her last under a contract that ran more than 10 years.

It was at 20th Century-Fox that Marilyn confessed having posed for the notorious nude calendar, and it was on the same lot only two weeks ago that she shucked her clothes to swim nude for a scene in the picture that costars Dean Matin.

"I don't know whether to feel sorry for Marilyn or not," said replacement Remick. "I have never met her."

Asked it she would repeat the nude bathing scene, the Boston-born actress said, "I really don't know if I would do it or not. I never considered myself as doing a scene like that.

"But I'm thrilled to death about the possibility of playing the role. I'm up in the clouds about it—mainly because it's comedy. I've done nothing but long-faced parts. I've seen a bunch of Marilyn's pictures and I love her as an actress.

"But this business in crumbling down around our ears, partly because of the kind of behavior Marilyn displayed on this picture."

A spokesman for the studio said shooting would resume on the film Monday morning with substitute scenes to replace those already made of Miss Monroe.

As a parting shot Miss Remick said, "I have never missed a whole day's work. Once when I was pregnant and I missed half a day it was a great shock."

Miss Remick is the wife of television director William Colleran. They are the parents of two children. The actress' most recent picture is "Days Of Wine And Roses" with Jack Lemmon.

Ted Kennedy

President "expressed good wishes and said some other words as well." He did not elaborate.

Edward Mc Cormack Jr., his opponent and nephew of House Speaker John Mc Cormack, saw the handwriting on the tally sheets.

McCormick Concedes Defeat

At 12:26 a.m. when the roll call of the 40 delegations was just past the halfway mark he strode to the convention platform and conceded defeat.

That action automatically gave Kennedy the convention's endorsement.

But Mc Cormack said he would challenge Kennedy again in the fall Democratic primary. That is his right under Massachusetts law because actually this convention was only a popularity contest.

But the way the Kennedy votes were rolling in Friday night and early today few political experts gave Mc Cormack much of a chance in the next round.

Massachusetts normally is a Democratic state and Kennedy is given much better than an even chance to defeat the Republican senatorial nominee in the November election.

Confident Of Victory

Friday Kennedy made a brief prediction: "We are confident of victory. It won't be close."

Shortly after the roll cali of the delegations started Friday night it was apparent that the young man knew what he was talking about. He seized the lead after the second delegation cast its vote and was never headed.

He had 691 votes to his opponents 360 when Mc Cormack tossed in the towel. He had won 21 of the 24 delegations polled, tied in one and lost two.

Mc Cormack is 38 years old, the attorney general of Massachusetts and a leader of what, until Friday night, had been considered a powerful political machine.

His supporters shouted "We want Mc Cormack. We want Mc Cormack," as he pushed his way to the convention microphone. He grinned and said:

"With this enthusiasm how did I lose?"

Then he added: "I officially request that my name be withdrawn from this convention and I will now take my case to the people."

Levittown Man Found Not Guilty

A Bucks County jury found a Levittown man not guilty on one burglary count but failed to reach a verdict on another charge in a trial held this week at the county courthouse in Doylestown.

A new trial will be scheduled for Kenneth Michael, 22, of 41 Inland Road, Indian Creek.

Michael was cleared of charges of entering the home of Mrs. Mary Donahoe of 7 Rockwood Road, Levittown on March 11, 1962, at 2:50 a.m.

On being arrested some time later, the man confessed to Middletown Township police that he had taken a fifth of whiskey. Mrs. Donahoe testified in court, however, that nothing was taken.

Acquitted On Charge

The jury acquitted Michael after Judge John P. Fullam sustained attornney E. Dillwyn Darlington's motion to throw out charges of larceny and receiving of stolen goods.

The jury could not reach a verdict whether Michael was guilty of burglary on April 7, when he allegedly entered the same home. Again, it was testified that nothing had been taken.

Michael had entered a "not guilty" plea to both counts.

Other Verdicts

In other verdicts in Bucks County Court:

Clarence E. Anderson of Big Oak Road, Langhorne, was acquitted of an assault and battery charge brought against him by his stepmother Mrs. Maggie Anderson. Each had to pay one-half the costs on order by Judge Lawrence A. Monroe.

Hugh Collins of Arbutus Ave., Horsham, was sentenced by Judge John P. Fullam from 90 days to 23 months in Bucks County prison after being found guilty of drunken driving and driving without a license.

Stanley Hirst of 139 Golden Gate Road, Golden Ridge, Levittown, was fined $200 by Judge Fullam after pleading guilty to driving while intoxicated.

August Kiwit of Morrisville was made to pay $125 and costs by Judge Monroe after pleading guilty to drunken driving.

Comecon, was conspicuously missing. And Communist China, which has supported Albania in its ideological dispute with the Kremlin, did not send a representative.

The secret sessions were believed to have dealt with both economic and political problems facing the Communist bloc.

Goat Traps Commuter

NEWPORT, Isle of Wight (UPI) —"Can you help me?" cried the man telephoning the Newport police station. "I've been trapped by a goat and can't get to work."

Policemen rushed to the telephone booth where the man was caught, captured a goat butting its head against the booth door and freed the man.
